

Title: Ottawa Tulips

Artist: Mrs. Lauren Harper (Canada's First Lady)

Medium: Framed Photograph

Dimensions: 8" X 10" - (14" x 17" Framed)

For Mrs. Lauren Harper, the tulips planted annually around the National Capital Region have significance beyond their ethereal beauty. A gift to Canada presented annually by the Dutch government, the magnificent blooms call to her mind the sacrifices that Canadians made during the liberation of Holland from Nazi occupation during the Second World War. This picture was taken on a bright sunny day in Ottawa and although a photographer knows that a bright day can make it more difficult to take a great picture, Mrs. Harper couldn't resist taking pictures of the beautiful tulips!
