"The West Coast landscape, the snow capped mountains, our rivers and ocean are constant inspirations and these are mostly reflected in my artwork. As an artist, there are 3Cs that I consider important – the Composition, the Concept and the Colour. I love to paint in oil due to its fluidness and viscosity. To paint requires creativity and dedication. Once I start, I'm in a different zone and my constant companion is usually the background music. Through my paintings, I hope to share with my viewers the same beauty that nature has so graciously offered to us".
